FORMER GIVES ICE CREAM TREAT

Latter, Leader in Playgrounds Movement, Soon to Leave for Sojourn in Mountains.

Early yesterday afternoon kiddles carrying saucers and spoons, intent evidently, upon something extraordinary, hurried in the direction of Long View park playerounds and by I o'clock 350 of them had congregated. Parents came, too, and there were not less than 50 gathered to see the picase ure of the shildren. The attraction was nothing less than a treat of ice cream provided by Park Superintendent Guetjer, 10 gallons of the confection melting before the eager children like snow in July.

It was such a pleasure to the children that the grownups were delighted to watch them and many were the amusing sights as the little falls managed their freat, with dolls and red parasols and small brothers and sisters to divide their attention

Little Loraine chank in behalf of her playmates thanked Mr. Gaurjer for his kindness in giving them the treat, making a pretty speech to watch she declared he was the hindest man, next to her papa, that she had over seen The children, a landred as more, then gave a number of berntiful folk dances, including two walls dances During one of the sola dances the children surrounded Mr. Gaetler and dedicated to him a hower games, showing the development of the life of the flower from the seed to the full blows blossom, ending by pelting him with the flowers that they had used in the Honor Mrs. Ries. Too. Mrs. M. C. Blue, who lists been so ac tive in the interest of the playerounds at the park, was next the object of the ittention of the children. She was led orward and surrounded by them and anna Marie VanDarrer, speaking for the children, thanked her for her interest in them and their play, and prescribed her with a beciutiful bouque Bowers. Mrs. Elen will leave Mousia; for a sejected in the mountains at Manfrom and the little courtesy of yester day was a parting effecting. The children then danced a pretty step known as the "mountain fairs," which they dedicated to Sirse Rice, showing the fairles as they entired their victim to the mountain vales, swimming through cool brooks and scrambling over crase and through talchers of ferms. Mrs. Rice was taken much by surprise and was quite delighted with the pretty at-

Miss Marion Fauler told the children beautiful stories during the story telling hour, holding their attention and interesting them.

Text of United States Final Note to Kaiser

Washington, D. C., July 24.-Following is the official text of the latest American note to Germany regarding submarine warfare, which was delivered to the foreign office at Berlin today by Ambassador Gerard: "The Secretary of State to Ambassador Gerard, Department of State, Washington, D. C., July 21, 1915.

You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the minister for foreign affairs:

The note of the imperial German government dated the 8th of July, 1015, has received the careful consideration of the government of the United States, and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real differences between the two governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually sets

Recognition of U. S. Principles Noted.

"The government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the imperial German government recognizes without reservation the validity of the principles insisted upon in the several communications which this government has addressed to the imperial German government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas-the principle that the high seas are free, that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before it can lawfully be seized or destroyed, and that the lives of noncombatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless. the vessel resists or seeks to escape after being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it

The government of the United States is, however, keenly disappointed to find that the imperial German government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral

Cannot Discuss Policy of Great Britain.

"The imperial German government will readily undersland that the government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade, except with that government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the imperial government of what this government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German

U. S. Recognizes New Sea Conditions.

"The government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by this war or of the radical alterations of circumstance and method of attack produced by the use of instrumentalities of naval warfare which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea; but it cannot consent to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstance.

"The rights of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

"The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct such submarine operations as have characterized theactivity of the imperial German navy within the socalled war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practice of regulated warfare.

"The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense.

Disavowal of Lusitania Attack Demanded.

"In view of the admission of illegality made by the imperial government when it pleaded the right of retaliation in defense of its acts, and in view of the manifest possibility of conforming to the established rules of naval warfare, the government of the United States cannot believe that the imperial government will longer refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation of the American lives lost so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act.

The government of the United States, while not indifferent to the friendly spirit in which it is made, cannot accept the suggestion of the imperial German government that certain vessels be designated and agreed upon which shall be free on the seas now illegally proscribed.

"The very agreement would by implication, subject other vessels to illegal attack and would be a curtailment and therefore an abandonment of the principles for which this government contends and which in times of calmer counsels every nation would concede as of

Both Nations Seek Freedom of Seas.

"The government of the United States and the imperial German government are contending for the same great object, have long stood together in urging the very principles upon which the government of the United States now so solemnly insists. They are both contending for the freedom of the seas.

"The government of the United States will continue to contend for that freedom from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost.

"It invites the practical cooperation of the imperial German government at this time when cooperation. may accomplish most and this great common object be most strikingly and effectively achieved.

The imperial German government expresses the hope that this object may be in some measure accomplished even before the present war ends. It can be.

The government of the United States not only feels obliged to insist upon it. by whomsnever violated or ignored, in the protection of its own citizens, but is also deeply interested in seeing it made practicable between the belligerents themselves, and holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who be privileged to suggest a way.

Observance of Neutral Rights Demanded.

"In the meantime the very value which this government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship between the people and government of the United States and the people and government of the German nation impels it to press very solemnly upon the imperial German government the necessity for a scrunulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter.

"Friendship itself prompts it to say to the imperial government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately uniriendly.

Constantinople Declares There is Little Foundation for Stories Put in Circulation.

Constantinople, July 24, (via Lonion, July 23.)-There has been no change in the situation on the Gallipoli front in the last week. Both the ailies and the Turks have confined their efforts to desultory small arms fire and sapping operations. The weather has been excessively warm.

The Turks are concentrating many new troops near the Gallipoli theatre. After surmounting many difficulties they now have placed in successful operation several plants for the manufacture of ammunition for heavy artillery. The output of these factories, it is asserted, is several thousand shells a day.

There is but slight foundation for reports of famine and epidemics of disease in Constantinople. The city is well provided with moderately cheap food, there have been no disturbances in the streets and no cases of cholera have been reported.

"Four trenches, forming steps on a slope between the sea and a ravine opening from the village were chosen as the objective for an attack on th 21st. A west wind covered the field of battle with clouds of dust swept up by the artillery preparations.

"Suddenly, about 11 o'clock, metalli flashes streaked the shroud of yellow dust and the clash of bayonets was heard as the infantry leaped to the assault. One after another the trenches fell before the impetuous charge of the French troops, which carried them almost to the heights of Krithia be youd the fartherest point at which the assault was aimed. An entire Turkisl ompany, surprised in the first trench surrendered without resistance.
